

DAVID ATKINS

David Atkins is the Assistant Secretary, International Frameworks Branch in the International Division of the Australian Government Department of Education, Skills and Employment.

David has served in a policy and implementation roles in the department prior to his current role, including in the Schools, Early Childhood and Childcare and Corporate and Enabling Services Groups. Previously, David has also worked at the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet.

Prior to joining the Australian Public Service, David worked in Asia and Europe in senior private sector roles. David holds graduate degrees in physical sciences (ANU) and public administration (ANZSOG/ANU) and has completed the Australian Institute of Company Directors' Company Directors' Course.