

Dr Devleena Ghosh

Dr Devleena Ghosh works in the School of Communication, Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences at UTS.

She researches and has published widely in environmental and postcolonial studies, specifically on India and Indian Ocean connections. Currently, she is researching coal mining in Chattisgarh, progressive women's movements in India and Australia and syncretic religious practices in India.

She is the author of Colonialism and Modernity (with Paul Gillen, UNSW Press, 2007) and editor of Water, Borders and Sovereignty in Asia and Oceania (with Heather Goodall and Stephanie Donald, Routledge, 2008).

She recently became the first Australian scholar to receive the Wang Gungwu award from the Asian Studies Association of Australia for her article 'Burma - Bengal Crossings: Intercolonial Connections in Pre-Independent India', in Asian Studies Review, vol. 40, no. 2, 2016.